The Administrative Office of the Courts posted the following announcement on its Facebook page today:

The Administrative Office of the Courts recently identified unauthorized activity on the Washington Courts network. We have taken immediate action to secure critical systems and are working to safely restore service.

Please be advised that there will be intermittent impacts to accessibility of our public website and systems in the coming days as we continue to restore services. We apologize for any inconvenience.

Stay tuned to this Facebook page for updates on this developing situation.

Please be advised this outage will impact courts at the local level as much of the information we utilize is stored on AOC servers. Not having access to this data means court staff may not have the ability to look up case numbers and court dates. We will do our best to answer questions and assist court users, but please know we may not be able to provide the level of customer service you are accustomed to.

If you have any questions please do not hesitate to reach out court administration at 509-667-6210 (option 3).
